

INVERCLYDE LETTING AGENT ACHIEVES PROPERTY QUALIFICATION OF EXCELLENCE

- Campbell Gisbey achieves Propertymark Qualifications Level 6 Award in Residential Letting and Property Management Scotland

Campbell, a letting agent at Homefinders Estate and Lettings in Greenock, has achieved the Propertymark Qualifications Level 6 Award in Residential Letting and Property Management Scotland.

The Award, which is a nationally recognised industry qualification, meets the Association of Residential Letting Agents' (ARLA) Propertymark membership requirements for those looking to join the Association as a member agent. ARLA Propertymark is the UK's foremost professional body for letting agents. It aims to promote better regulation and higher practice standards in the UK private rented sector.

Campbell has been working as a letting agent at Homefinders Letting for 12 years.

Campbell of Homefinders Letting comments: "It was important for me to secure this recognised qualification as a letting agent. It is not only a personal achievement but also a mark of professionalism and trust; it provides reassurance to tenants and landlords dealing with Homefinders Letting that the agency adheres to the highest professional standards, and that employees are qualified and knowledgeable letting agents."

Homefinders Estate and Letting is among a growing number of agents across the UK working with ARLA Propertymark and the Propertymark Qualifications to become qualified and raise standards within the industry.

Melfyn Williams, Chair of the Governing Body, adds: "The Propertymark Qualifications Level 6 Award is a regulated qualification ideal for candidates wanting to improve existing knowledge in the key areas related to residential letting and property management. Propertymark Qualifications is committed to raising standards within the residential letting and property management sector through the provision of accredited, nationally recognised qualifications, such as the Award Campbell has achieved."

David Cox, ARLA Propertymark Chief Executive, concludes: “I congratulate Campbell Gisbey on his achievement of the Award qualification and hope to welcome him to full ARLA Propertymark membership in the near future.

“ARLA Propertymark strives for better regulation in the private rented sector; with the support of letting agents across the UK recognising the need for higher standards and integrity in the sector, gaining a qualification with Propertymark Qualifications counts as a real stamp of professionalism and supports the drive for better practice within the industry.”